USCGS' services are currently limited to: (i) the purchase and sale of private securities, including limited partnership interests in securities which have not been registered with the SEC; and (ii) the provision of consulting and due diligence services to entities looking to either merge with, or acquire, another entity. USCGS recommends private placement securities which are created and managed by an affiliated entity. ### WHAT FEES WILL I PAY?

Any fees charged are conspicuously disclosed in the offering documents related to the private securities investments USCGS or its representatives recommend. Such fees (Commissions) are transaction-based, disclosed as a percentage of the total amount of funds invested, and can be as high as 10% of the funds invested.

WHAT ARE YOUR LEGAL OBLIGATIONS TO ME WHEN PROVIDING RECOMMENDATIONS?

USCGS is registered with the SEC, and a member of FINRA. As such, USCGS is obligated to obey the various rules and regulations promulgated by these, and other applicable regulatory organizations, such as the states in which USCGS is registered. One of these requirements is addressed in the SEC's Regulation Best Interest, which requires registrants, such as USCGS, to act in the best interest of its clients and prospective clients, and not put its interests ahead of theirs.

Information regarding the rules and regulations applicable to USCGS' securities related activities can be obtained at www.investor.gov/crs and www.finra.org.

HOW ELSE DOES YOUR FIRM MAKE MONEY AND WHAT CONFLICTS OF INTEREST DO YOU HAVE?

While USCGS have to act in the best interest of its clients and prospective clients, and not put its interest ahead of theirs when providing them with a recommendation, the manner in which USCGS makes money creates some conflicts with the interests of its clients and prospective clients. These conflicts affect the recommendations USCGS provides. Some examples of these conflicts, which USCGS has also disclosed in other sections of this document, include, but are not limited to:

- USCGS and its representatives receive income via commissions generated from funds invested in the private securities it recommends;
- USCGS and/or its affiliates receive compensation from the issuers/companies in which investor funds are invested; and
- USCGS and/or its affiliates may invest in the same investments its recommends, at terms that may be more favorable than that offered to prospective investors.

For additional information, please see the Regulation Best Interest Disclosures and offering documents related to the private securities investments USCGS or its representatives recommend.

HOW DO YOUR FINANCIAL PROFESSIONALS MAKE MONEY?

Representatives of USCGS do receive a percentage of the Commission generated when making a recommendation to an investor if an investment is made. The percentage varies and is negotiated between USCGS and each representative. The amount paid to the representative comes from the total Commission received by USCGS and is not in addition to the amount disclosed in the offering documents of the investment.

Representatives of USCGS may also receive other compensation for services they provide to USCGS and its affiliates. This includes the receipt of variable fees for services provided on behalf of affiliated registered investment advisers and the licensed finance lender, as well as fixed compensation related to services such as performing due diligence reviews of the issuer, negotiating and creating the offering documents, and other administrative activities. Any such compensation is separate and apart from any Commissions, and is paid directly by USCGS or its affiliates.

DO YOUR FINANCIAL PROFESSIONALS HAVE LEGAL OR DISCIPLINARY HISTORY?

Certain representatives of USCGS have legal and/or disciplinary histories. USCGS has thoroughly reviewed all such matters and is confident that they do not affect its representatives' ability to provide fair and reasonable service to prospective investors.

Information regarding the legal or disciplinary history for USCGS or any of its representatives can be obtained at www.investor.gov/crs and www.brokercheck.finra.org.
